

Shaping a national health services research agenda: What would make a difference to practice?

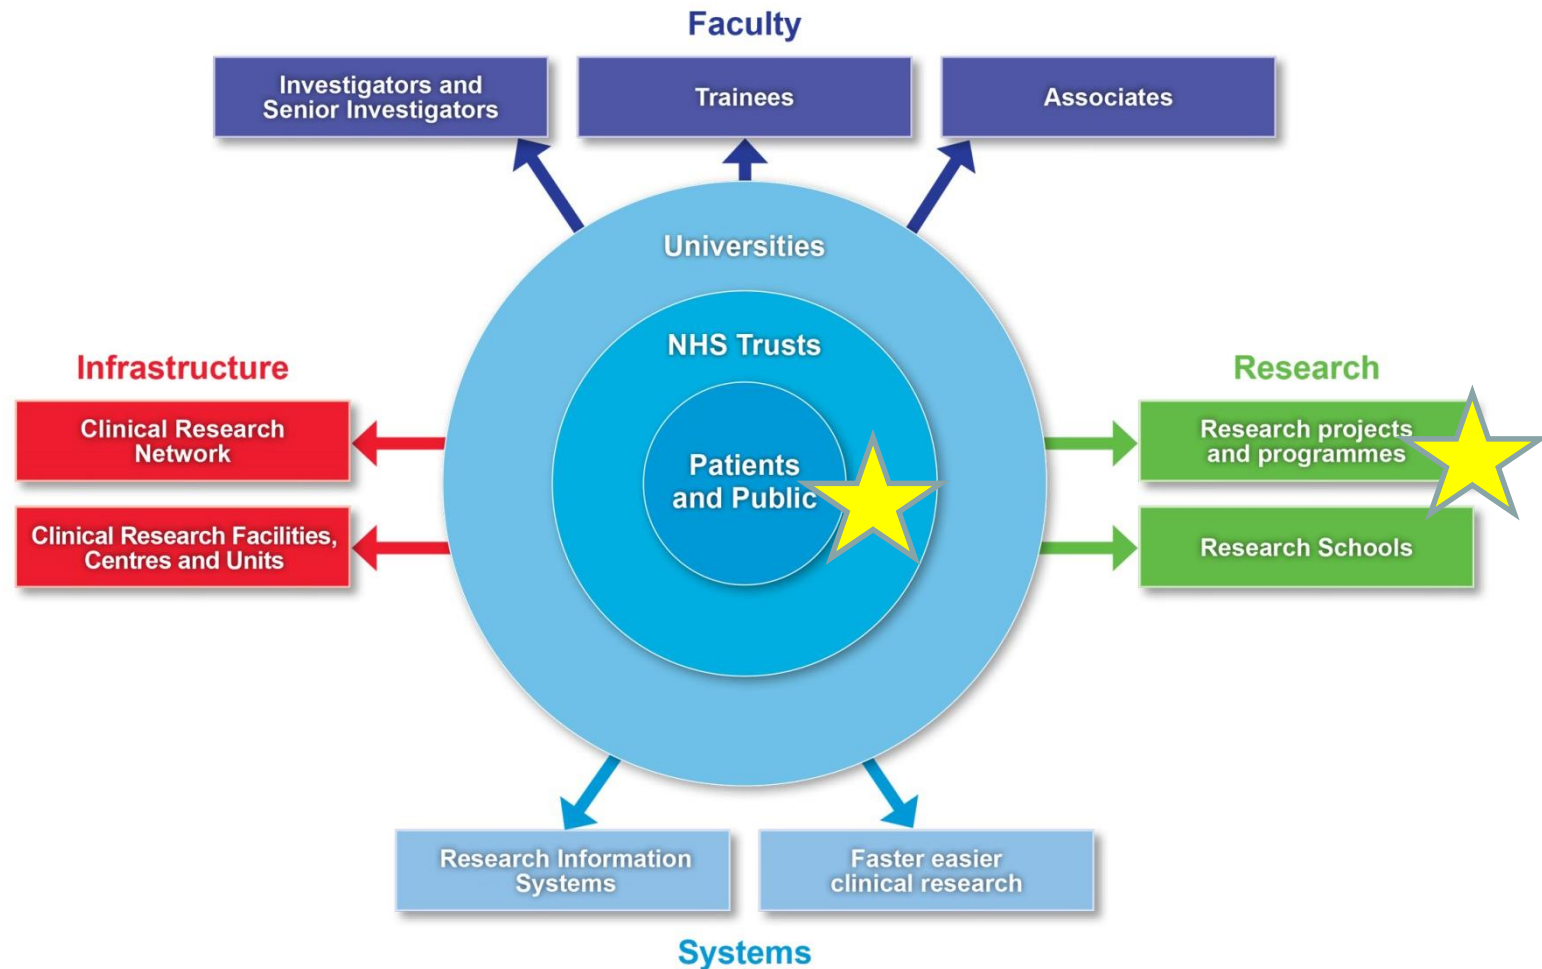

Steph Garfield

Assistant Director

NIHR Evaluation, Trials and Studies Coordinating Centre (NETSCC)

University of Southampton

The NIHR health research system

A horizontal bar composed of several colored segments: green, teal, orange, purple, and blue.

A FEW FACTS HS&DR 2016/2017

221	Live projects
14	Active RCTs
35	New projects
38	Final reports
71	Articles in peer reviewed journals
607	Peer reviewers

- Improving skills and care standards in the clinical support workforce: a realist synthesis of workforce development interventions, Jo Rycroft-Malone, Bangor
- Information Systems: Monitoring and Managing from Ward to Board, Justin Keen, Leeds
- Evaluation of the implementation of “Freedom to Speak Up Local Guardians” in NHS Acute Hospital Trusts and Mental Health Trusts in England, Aled Jones, Cardiff

Topic suggestions:

- What is the topic
- Why is it important to you
- What difference would having the evidence make to you, your colleagues, patients and members of the public
- What is your time horizon

Keeping in touch:

National Institute for Health Research

Hsdrinfo@nihr.ac.uk

The team:

Kevin Campbell

Kate Fenton

Sarah Moss

Programme website:

<https://www.nihr.ac.uk/funding-and-support/funding-for-research-studies/funding-programmes/health-services-and-delivery-research/>

Additional information

NIHR's response to the Robert Francis enquiry: Research to strengthen organisational capacity to deliver compassionate care in the NHS

<https://www.nihr.ac.uk/news/after-francis-research-to-strengthen-organisational-capacity-to-deliver-compassionate-care-in-the-nhs/7982>

New research on leadership development in health and care:

- ❖ Identifying training and development needs for individuals and organisations
- ❖ Effective approaches to training and development
- ❖ Measuring impact on individuals and organisations
- ❖ Developing leaders for the twenty first century

Improving the quality of care in care homes by care home staff

- ❖ Jackie Cassell, Sussex: Improving the quality of care in care homes by care home staff
- ❖ Karen Spilsbury, Leeds: Relationship between care home staffing and quality of care: a mixed methods approach